Best Practices

1. Conducting workshops:-

Goal: - To enhance the theoretical knowledge by providing first hand experience to students guided by experts.

The Context: - It was observed that students are keenly interested when they are taught through the means of workshop.

The Practice:-

- Each Department is allocated the responsibility of organizing workshop in these subjects where the theoretical concepts can be easily comprehended by practical manner.
- Well experienced experts are called for the workshop.

List of Workshop:-

- Design Development concept & Context
- Handloom Weaving
- Puppet Making
- Soft toy Making
- Women awareness
- Geriatric Nutrition & Health
- Promotion of research culture in home science
- Culinary Skills
- Salad carving & garnishing
- "Sarjan" workshop on potter's wheel

- Art of living

Evidence of success:-

- Difficult concepts were made easy
- Many Students did fairly well academically overcoming the barrier of language
- It was well appreciated in the parents meeting also
- It helped in strengthening the teacher - student relationship further
- It helped in strengthening bonds with other institutes and industries
- Many Students later adopted it as entrepreneur skill

Problems encountered:-

- Lot of motivation was needed by the faculty members to get 100% students attendance
- Sometimes due to time constraint of the subject expert the workshop were conducted during holidays or Sundays. Which needed a very well planned approach.

02 Title of the Practice:

Training in Digital Educational and Learning Laboratory.

Goal:

- To enable the students to face the Global Scenario by enhancing their communication skills in English.
- To impart training through certain grammatical competences.
- To develop communication skills among students through Digital Education and Learning Lab where flexibility in teaching learning process is the catch word.
- To enable the course participants to improve their levels of English language and to remove the fear and phobia of English as a language for communication.
- To prepare and encourage the course participants to sharpen their expressional skills for competitive exam.

The Context:

This practice has been introduced with an aim to enhance the ability of the students to understand English and Communicate in English as majority of the students are from Gujarati medium schools. As suggested by the Peer members during the cycle it is conducted in small batches of 20 to 25 students.

The Practice:

The college has well equipped Digital Education and Learning Lab (DELL) with 25 computers since June-2009.

It includes the following practices:

- Certain grammatical Structures/Competences useful in Functional English.
- Sequence of tenses
- Correcting common blunders while speaking.
- Tag Questions
- Vocabulary with appropriate sentence structure vice versa.
- Ways of indicating agreement, disagreement, inviting and politely denying invitations, greetings, apologizing, asking and giving permission, etc.
- Clarity of Pronunciation.

Use of Digital Education and Learning Lab

- Selected units from ESL (English as second language)
- Selected units from English as a Fundamental Language.
- CL client, EL client and Content selector softwares are used for developing in the student's functional English interview skills as well as personality development.

Evidence of Success:

- The main thrust of this course is functional English rather than literary English, hence the major gap in employability can be bridged .
- In the academic year 2009-2010, 192 students had been registered and trained. In the academic year 2010-2011, 271 students had been registered and trained. 187 students cleared the 'A' level exam of society for creation of opportunity through proficiency in English (SCOPE) University of Cambridge in July 2010. While 271 students have appeared for the SCOPE examination in July 2011, where in all students got success. In September 2012, 212 students will be appearing for the SCOPE examination.

- ESOL Examinations where in 74 students secured A2 grade, 82 students secured A1 grade while 31 students secured pre A1 grade.
- Many students empowered to choose a job rather than chase it.
- This course has a very positive effect on the students to face interviews.
- The course is very much beneficial for students/housewives and professionals.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

- Sometimes students need to be motivated.
- The lab has all the necessary resources.
